SUMMARY

As partner and managing member of Compass Commercial Construction Services, LLC, Steve guides owners, tenants, brokers and their clients through the development and construction process often associated with the buying and leasing of properties. Providing this service allows each client to stay focused on their primary business, not the business of building and renovating.

BACKGROUND & EXPERIENCE

Steve began his construction and development career at the age of 16 in the family building business. He gained the hands-on knowledge necessary for current projects during his early working days in the field. In 1989, Steve started Spectrum Contracting in Temecula, California. He headed the development of the 50-acre San Marcos Industrial Park, adjacent to California State University, San Marcos. Throughout the build, he oversaw a seven person architectural staff and an eighty person construction and building crew. Steve's firm also designed industrial and office buildings throughout north San Diego County. Before moving to Bend in 1992, Steve completed a 100,000 square foot building along with office improvements for Ace Van and Storage in San Diego.
